1 Goldmund configured their ProLogos speakers to give the illusion of expansive sound. It's as close as you'll come to the live experience without having an orchestra pit in your music room. Speakers by Goldmund, £55,000 a pair. At Sonata. sonatahifi.com

2 Books by Assouline, from £55. assouline.com

3 In gold not green, a malachite patina makes an ornament of your glassware. Glasses, £25 each. All by Jonathan Adler. uk.jonathanadler.com

4 Reflective elements like this stainless-steel pedestal draw in and echo the other shapes in your space. Side table by Bentley, £4,404. At Luxury Living. luxurylivinggroup.com

5 Designer Kevin Reilly works with a small team of artisans to create ultra-modern lighting. Floor lamp by Kevin Reilly, £2,292. At Gotham. gothamnottinghill.com

6 Using a proprietary technique, Italian marque Baxter decks its furniture in soft leather. Armchair by Baxter, £6,840. At Anna Casa. annacasa.net

7 Burning biofuel negates the need for a flue, allowing your feature fireplace to stand where you please. Fire pedestal by Cocoon Fires, £2,290. At Chaplins. chaplins.co.uk

8 Let light and shadow deliver a dynamic cast on your wall with a work of sculptural art. Wall sculpture by Cox London, £9,120. coxlondon.com

9 The natural veining on their alabaster shades makes each of these lamps by French designer Reda Amalou one of a kind. Table lamps by Reda Amalou, £3,455 each. redaamalou.com

10 Being a single solid component, the 3-D printed tonearm of VPI's HR-X turntable cuts out unwanted resonance. Turntable by VPI, £15,000. At Sonata. sonatahifi.com

11 Chestnut briar-root polishes to a lambent luster, a tidy contrast against leather cladding. Dresser by Bentley, £15,948. At Luxury Living. luxurylivinggroup.com

12 Istanbul-born designer Esti Barnes takes rugs to new dimension. Rug by Top Floor, £4,520. topfloorrugs.com
